

Computerized Regulation Thermography

Dr. Joya Schoen

The Mid-Florida Medical Group takes great pleasure in welcoming YOU to the world of Biological Medicine. Biological Medicine's emphasis is on enhancement of health, not suppression of symptoms or disease. Real health is a result of an energetic balance in the body which allows it to regulate and adapt to its environment. Illness and disease are an expression of a disturbance in the body. True healing begins by finding and eliminating these disturbances, strengthening the body's natural defense capability, which allows the body to regulate normally and heal itself.

The CRT-2000

One of the most important tools used in Biological Medicine is the Computerized Regulation Thermography (CRT). At the Mid-Florida Medical Group, the CRT is used as a baseline study on many of our patients before we begin treatment.

This is because the CRT provides invaluable information to the Doctor about early cellular and metabolic dysfunction which can create disturbances leading to disease in organs and tissues. With the CRT, we can see what your body is doing overall before it becomes dysfunctional enough to create an irreversible problem!

How Does the CRT Work?

Computerized Regulation Thermography is a precise method of measuring changes in your body's temperature on the surface of the skin. Your teeth and each organ of your body, such as heart, stomach, pancreas, liver, gall bladder, intestines, kidneys, and breasts has a special zone on the skin and if this particular region fails to react normally to changes in outside temperature this can reveal blockages in the energy circuits of your body.

Blockages show that your body cannot regulate itself in that area and, therefore, the corresponding organ or tissue is susceptible to disease.

Setting Up Your Visit

Appointments are made at least one week in advance, so literature containing pre-testing directions can be sent to you. This test may be ordered for you by the Doctor at your first visit, or later on in your evaluation, depending on your case.

Your Test Results

The Doctor reviews your CRT with you explaining how we understand the work to be done to clear blockages, reduce stress in organs culminating in a Treatment Plan. If your Thermograph reveals patterns that point to toxicity, it is always our intention is to clear the natural detoxification pathways of the body in the most logical and safe manner possible, allowing you to remain functioning while healing. Healing Crises are observed when the sequence of detoxification is not respectful of the body's ability to handle it. What your body needs to cleanse is seen clearly in the state of regulation of the detoxification pathways on your CRT. Safe, sequential detoxification is always the wise course. To do it otherwise, is to invite a state of worsening, complicating the body's task. Your CRT results show the way your body needs to be approached safely and successfully. Treatment Plans based on your CRT may take up to 6 months to complete, before retesting to gauge improvement, and readiness for the next step.
